We are confident that you will be satisfied with its performance and that it will serve your need for safe and clean drinking water.

Company Profile

Kenjal RO is well known and reputed brand name in RO manufacturing industry. We are pleased to inform you that we are the manufacturer of domestic/commercial RO water purifier with exclusive product range, outstanding quality and reasonable prices. All the models of domestic RO unit and commercial RO - 50 to 2000 LPH are readily available with us at any time along with their components. Other large RO units and mineral water bottling plants are being made on order. Do believe on us, you will never regret for sure.

How Kenjal RO Reverse Osmosis Function?

Reverse Osmosis is a hyperfiltration process in which all impurities (dissolved ions, heavy molecular weight compounds, bacteria, viruses) are removed from water by passing through membrane under designed pressure. The water is splitted into two streams. The pure water comes after passing through the membrane holes, containing only permissible ingredient. All undesirable elements including salts & biological impurities flush out along with rejected water. before membrane, water is pretreated by passing through softener, sediment filter, carbon filter & Chlorination is desired.
